ix) Module restrictions and pre-requisites	Restrictions for Exchange Students NUS students may enroll in courses from the College of Letters and Science. Students may enroll in any course within the College that has available space and for which they meet the requirements. Students are generally not allowed to take courses from the professional schools (Law, Medicine, etc). Student cannot take English as a Second Language (ESL) courses on campus.
D. Application
i) Procedures	All NUS students have to be nominated by NUS before they can apply for a fee-waiver exchange at the host university. The application procedures and list of supporting documents needed by the host university can be found in the SharePoint. Please look for the SEP coordinator at your Dean's Office for the link to the SharePoint.
ii) Deadlines	All NUS students must abide by the internal application deadline set by their home Faculty for exchange participation in the following academic year. After clearing the internal application and selection process, students have to take note of the application deadline set by the host university. Failure to submit a formal application to the host university by the stipulated deadline, may result in your exchange being forfeited even if you have been selected by NUS for the exchange.
E. Accommodation
i) University Accommodation	Housing Options Exchange students can arrange to live in on-campus or off-campus in an apartment. Note that on-campus accommodation is not guaranteed. University Residence Halls (www.housing.wisc.edu): UW-Madison has two types of residence halls: undergraduate or graduate. You may apply to either type of hall, regardless of your status. Undergraduate halls have fully-furnished double rooms, while in graduate housing you may choose to have your own bedroom or to share a room. If you sign a contract for university housing, you are committed to the cost of the room for the full academic year

	Fall applicants must inform International Academic Programs of their intention to apply for undergraduate and graduate halls by March 1. Space might open for spring semester, although again this is not guaranteed. Apartments: Relatively more expensive but in ample supply. Refer to the UW Off-Campus Housing Listing at http://housing.civc.wisc.edu/
F. Visa
Consular/Visa Regulation	Consular/Visa Regulation If you are interested in taking classes at UW-Madison, your visa status needs to allow you to study at this institution. With few exceptions—English as a Second Language (ESL) and formal exchange students—the Adult and Student Services Center is not authorized to issue the I-20 or DS-2019 for a student visa. Students who hold F-1 or J-1 student visas are not eligible to "transfer" this status to UW-Madison while holding a student visa issued from another school, except for the summer term.
G. Safety, Health & Medical Insurance
i) Health/Medical Insurance	All registered NUS students are covered under the University health insurance and the blanket travel insurance. For more information on the University health insurance coverage, please refer to http://www.nus.edu.sg/uhc/healthservice/insurance-schemes/undergraduate-scheme.html. For more information on the blanket travel insurance, please refer to http://www.nus.edu.sg/finance/InsuranceCoverforOfficialNUSTrips.html All students who attend US universities on exchange are required to purchase the health insurance recommended by their host university as part of the registration process. In addition, they can also purchase additional optional insurance from a private insurer for their term of study overseas. These short term optional insurance plans cover events such as personal accident, accidental medical expenses, emergency medical evacuation etc. The SHIP office must receive a completed enrollment application and full payment or a Waiver Application, on or before the posted deadlines. Please refer to this link for more information: http://www.uhs.wisc.edu/ship/international.shtml
